

Indian Society for Quality

17th Annual Conference 2020

December 11th & 12th, 2020
through Virtual Media

Theme

Quality for Sustainable Development
(social, economic and environmental)

Sustainable development is development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs. It considers both the imperatives present and those of the future, such as the preservation of the environment and natural resources or social and economic equity. Embracing sustainable development is of paramount importance considering the environmental damages, unlimited consumption and exploitation of natural resources we see today.

Quality Management helps setting the right goals and the path for sustainable development in an organisation with greater efficiency and effectiveness.

ISQ, in its efforts towards making Quality India, gives an opportunity to listen to the experts from different fields on their insights into sustainable development with practical examples and the usage of Quality Management in their efforts. It is an occasion to interact with cutting edge minds from all sectors of industry and institutions.

The sessions are designed to be more interactive with high value addition.

There will be speeches by award winners, invited speakers with case studies. ISQ looks forward to your active participation as delegates and as sponsors.

ISQ is thankful to the organisations who have been supporting us through Sponsorships during annual conferences. We look forward to your support through Sponsorship. Being a virtual conference we leave it to the organisations to decide on the sponsorship anything from Rs. 25,000/- and above.

About ISQ Annual Conference

ISQ's Annual Conferences carry in depth presentations from industry leaders, professionals, and academics. In these Conferences eminent speakers from India and abroad exchange their expert knowledge and insights relevant to the Theme. Distinguished Professionals and Industry veterans on Quality share their experience as well. The conferences are made more interactive through case studies, discussions providing a platform for individuals to share their research, study, implementation experience, and other insights in the area related to the theme of the conference.

Covid-19 has constrained all of us in having a face to face annual conference this year. Hence 17th Annual Conference in 2020 of Indian Society for Quality will be held virtually. Duration of the conference, also had to be trimmed keeping the limitations of online conferences and the span of attention it draws. Case study/paper presentations could not be part of current virtual conference.

Conference Program Committee is putting all its efforts to make this first virtual annual conference is as interesting and value adding as the past ones.

About ISQ

Indian Society for Quality (ISQ) is a not-for-profit society established in 1996 to fill the need for a national forum for interaction among quality professionals, leaders, practitioners and academics. ISQ is a non-partisan, independent body that attracts and invites individual members from business organizations, health care and educational institutions, government agencies and NGOs. Members share their knowledge and learn from each other. ISQ is thus engaged in both creating and disseminating knowledge

ISQ is well linked to similar national quality bodies in other countries. It has represented India in the Asian Network for Quality (ANQ) from its very inception, and has hosted two ANQ Congresses, in 2004 and 2010. ISQ is the national partner from India of the international Quality Innovation Award. ISQ is the face of India in the world of quality.

ISQ has instituted awards for outstanding and selfless leaders of quality at the national level. There are awards for industrialists, professional heads of organizations and quality promotion bodies, besides counsellors and Gurus in the quality discipline who have served India.
